

Catching public transport to meet friends

Meeting up is important to growing a friendship.

Sometimes, getting around to meet up with friends is hard.

For some people using a train or a bus can be tricky.

Sometimes we can get a lift with our family or support worker.

Catching public transport is a good way to meet up with friends.

Public transport means buses, trains, trams, ferries and rideshare services like Uber.

Learning to use public transport can help you to do things on your own.

There are workers to assist at train stations. They can help you take the right train and get off at the right place.

There are apps to help you plan a journey and use transport.